

BROUGHT DOWN after a fast start was Lemont's quarterback, Gib Freilly. The line leaked about that time and Freilly found himself surrounded by foes. The Lincoln-Way player who has him from behind, No. 81, is Jim Nicholson, an end, while converging on him from in front are Howard Grimes (86) the other end, and Mike Delaney (62) a guard.

A FLIP OR LOOSE BALL? It could be either as Lincoln-Way made several fumbles in the game against Lemont last Saturday and the Knights also piled up a lot of yards so the ball you see in the middle of the crowd could have been tossed by the quarterback to Jeff Urban, a Lincoln-Way back (40). Two Lincoln-Way tackles are up front seeking to open a hole, Earl Montgomery (71) and Joe Wajchert (72).

PILED UP -- play and players and it is a fair question if you ask who has the ball, but it is someplace in that tangle. No. 65 is Lincoln-Way's guard, Rick Brooks and No. 40 in Jeff Urban, while No. 21 is another back, Van DeLay. The two Lemont players are Gerry O'Sullivan (60) a guard, and James Lupo (23) a halfback.

Knights Beat Lemont 21-7 To Open Grid Season

BY GREGORY FANT

The Lincoln-Way Knights, out-running, out-blocking and out-tackling the Lemont Indians scored a well deserved victory over the Redskins. It was the Knights eighth win over Lemont. This team was probably one of the best Lemont teams that the Knights have faced over the years.

Lincoln-Way scoring was paced by Don Ferrell, a 5'8", 165 lb. halfback, who crossed the goal line twice, once in the second quarter and again in the fourth quarter. Ron Kokal, a 6'1", 165 lb. end, tallied the third and final touchdown for the Knights when he intercepted one of Gib Freilly's passes and ran 32 yards for the score.

The Knights scored a safety in the second quarter when Howard Grimes, a 6'5", 180 lb. end, tackled Gib Freilly in the Lemont end zone for two points. The Indians probably would not have scored had it not been for a fumble by Knight quarterback, Craig Cieply, which was recovered by Jim Lupo who carried it 35 yards to the end zone for the score, the only one of the day for Lemont.

Don Ferrell was the most potent runner for the Knights as he rolled up a total of 86 yards in 16 carries for an average of 5.4 yards a carry. The Knights' defense was superb as it held the Indians to only 54 yards rushing and 15 yards thru the air. Lemont completed three out of 12 passes for their 15 yards. The Knights attempted only two passes, while completing only one for a total of 5-yards, but on the ground the reeled off a total of 203 yards. The Knights fumbled three times, losing the ball all three times while Lemont fumbled only once but recovered. Lemont was penalized 20 yards while the Knights were penalized only 10 yards, in a clean, well fought football game.

In a thrilling frosh-soph contest, the Knights beat the Indians 7-6 on a touchdown by Marc Schomise. The Indians missed making the conversion by half a yard, thus giving the Knights the victory.

This week the Knights face off against the always rough Rich East Rockets who are looking this year for a conference title. The Knights will be out trying to upset these plans, but as the Rockets won their season opener from Bloom 13-6, this will be a big game for both teams to win.

Score by Quarters
Lincoln-Way - 1, 0 - 2, 8

Mokena, New Lenox Divide Marley School Dist. Assets

The assets of Marley school district, now a part of the New Lenox and Mokena districts, have been figured. The cash assets, $10,238.72 have already been distributed by County School Supt. Verne E. Crackel, with $2,011.91 going to the Mokena district, No. 159, with the remainder, $8,226.81 going to New Lenox district, No. 122.

Supt. Crackel also has informed the Mokena and New Lenox boards that the site of the Marley school has been appraised at $5,000 and the building at $22,000. The appraisal was made by John Weltendorf, Joliet real estate dealer and registered appraiser who was hired by the Will county board of school trustees.

If no objections are filed within 20 days New Lenox district will pay the Mokena district approximately $5,400, as its share of the price set in the appraisal. The assets are divided according to the daily average attendance of last year, so that New Lenox gets approximately 80% and Mokena 20%. The property will then belong to the New Lenox schools. The Mokena district will not file an objection.

The bonded debt of the Marley district will be shared by the taxpayers of both districts, according to the valuation of their property, and the property owners of the former Marley district will share in the bonded debt of the New Lenox district or the Mokena district.

The Weltendorf district which was divided between Mokena and Frankfort school district had cash assets of $7,585 which have been turned over to the treasurers of the two districts, $2,241 to Mokena and $5,344 to the Frankfort district. The Weltendorf school site and the building are to be sold in the near future. The site and the building will be sold separately.

County Supt. Crackel explained that the reason for the separate sales rests on the fact that two parcels of land comprise the site. The original site is the one that is to be sold. The other site reverts to the owner when no longer used for school purposes. When the addition was built at Weltendorf about five feet of the structure spread over onto the site that reverts to the owner. Thus the building must be sold and removed so the reversion site is clear.

At the recent meeting of the Mokena school board, at which these questions were brought up, it was announced that the Mokena board had arrived at an agreement with Mazucco Brothers, general contractors who are building the addition to Willowcrest school under which the contract price has been reduced from $94,000 to $185,000. The kitchen planned for the addition will be built but not equipped. The difference in the totals also includes some minor revisions.

Ryder's Sinclair Service station was awarded the contract to supply oil and gasoline for the school's two buses.

Four routes have been established for the year, two for each bus. The routes go south to U. S. 30 and north to 183rd st., east to U. S. 45 and west to Rolling Heights. The buses travel more than 50 miles a day.

It was announced by Supt. James Ennis that the current enrollment is 490 as compared to 421 when the schools closed last June. There are 175 pupils in Carpenter Street school and 315 in Willowcrest.

N. Lenox Board May Fill Vacancy Tomorrow Night

The problem of appointing an interim trustee to fill the unexpired term of Eugene Hunt, recently resigned from the New Lenox village board, may be resolved at a special meeting tomorrow night.

At a meeting last Friday Mayor Stanley Gilmore appointed Trustees Evans Drotts and Don Anderson as a committee to screen prospects for the post. The mayor announced earlier in the week that the committee was to report Sept. 20 and it was believed the place on the board would be filled at that time.

As of today, however, Drotts said, he and Anderson have not settled on any recommendations but if it is clear that the board is ready to act tomorrow night the committee would be ready.

Some six or eight prospects are being considered by the committee, it was said. Mr. Hunt resigned because of ill health and is now under the care of a physician. He served as head of the street department and made a good record as such. He was never hesitant in expressing his views in council business. His successor will serve until the next village election, it was stated.

The next regular meeting of the New Lenox board is scheduled for Oct. 4. Because of a backlog of administrative chores, however, the council has been meeting weekly.

Trustee Robert Randolph was scheduled to send out questionnaires this week to get an expression from the public on the question to extend sidewalks in other areas of the village on the same terms as the proposed sidewalk along Cedar road. It was hoped that returns from these cards would be tabulated and ready for study at the meeting Oct. 4.

Village Attorney William Penn is working on an ordinance to annex all properties of the Public Service Co., the Rock Island railroad and the Wabash railroad that lie within the village limits as now extended.

Trustee Anderson, who serves as police commissioner, is getting figures on the better type of radio equipment to determine the cost of replacing the

Teaching The Mentally Handicapped At Mokena

By Doris Gerdehl

There are 14 sweet, wistful youngsters attending a class for the "educable mentally handicapped" at Willowcrest school, under the teaching of Mrs. Donna Kruck.

Their ages range from 8 to 12 years old. Three children are from Mokena, eight from New Lenox and three from Frankfort.

These youngsters are from the Lincoln-Way area "Cooperating Special Education Program." The program also includes two speech correctionists from this area.

Each of the elementary schools and Lincoln-Way contribute to this program on the basis of their enrollment. Each district is responsible for part of the cost of the program - per capita cost.

Taught in the Willowcrest school are children educable, who can do academic work. Some of these students will eventually read at a third grade level, others at a fifth grade level.

The first part of each school day the youngsters do a unit of work for all of them as a group. Last Friday they were all coloring a long train, each had his own part of the train to crayon in his or her chosen color. The train was approximately 12 feet in length and was lovely in its many bright colors.

This week the children will visit the Mokena train depot and the following week the E. J. and E. railroad in Joliet.

The remainder of the day the class is broken into small groups where reading, writing, arithmetic, spelling and English are taught. With a class this size, youngsters receive a great deal of individual attention from pre-primer to fifth grade.

There has been some discussion of opening a second class for older children as there are several on the waiting list. The initial class would teach children ages 7 to 11 and the second class for children 12 to 14 years of age.

Mrs. Kruck taught this class last year in Manhattan. She has had special training for the teaching of educable mentally handicapped children. The permanent class for these children will be located at Willowcrest.

Mrs. Kruck stated that visitors are welcome anytime. Visit this class - perhaps you will come away a bit sad, but happy to know that these youngsters are being helped in every possible way to further their education.

Nazarenes Will Conduct Youth Rally

The Joliet Zone of the Nazarene Young People's Society will have a rally at 7:30 p.m., Friday, Sept. 20, at the Church of the Nazarene, 454 E. Cass Street, Joliet.

Rev. Samuel Smith, outstanding youth speaker and pastor of the Emerald Avenue Church of the Nazarene in Chicago, will address the gathering. Special music will be presented by each of the churches on the Joliet Zone: Orland Park, Tinley Park, New Lenox, Wilmington, Braidwood, Morris, and Joliet.

During the Young People's service in the sanctuary a separate meeting will be held in another auditorium for those of Junior age. Miss Karen Lucas, ventriloquist, from Olivet College will present a special program for the children. The public is invited.

Offer Education Classes To Lincoln-Way Adults

Adult education classes will resume session at Lincoln-Way High School Sept. 19, at 7 p.m. Anyone interested in the courses listed below may register at Lincoln-Way High School on the above date. Classes will also be held on the 19th from 7 until 9 p.m.

Subject to the desires of each class, meetings will be held each Tuesday or Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuition for the ten week period of instruction is $10 per person. A minimum of eight people must be registered in each class or the course will have to be cancelled.

Courses being offered include clothing construction, beginning and advanced typing, beginning bookkeeping, shorthand, business machines, business law, practical problems in electrical wiring, farm business management, and farm shop. According to Donald J. D'Amico, Adult Education Director at Lincoln-Way High School, "The courses being offered this year provide an excellent opportunity for adults in business and the home to improve their skills or learn new ones. These evenings of instruction are part of the community services provided by Lincoln-Way High School, and are in keeping with the high educational standards to which we adhere."

Clothing construction is a course involving a series of demonstrations on making clothes using the unit method of construction. Mrs. Mary K. Cullison will teach this course. Many dollars can be saved in the family budget by making clothes in the home. This course will provide the smart home maker with a money-saving skill.

Beginning typing, which will be taught by Paul M. Thomas, covers the fundamentals of touch typing. Speed will not be emphasized. Instead, basic procedures of arranging correspondence, tables of figures and reports will be the main topics. An advanced course in typing will also be offered for the more advanced students. Both, electric and manual machines will be available for use in these classes.

Running a family is like running a business today, and the bookkeeping course being taught by Charles H. Baird will provide the basic information you need to set up your own books. This knowledge can prove to be a valuable aid to the businessman. A course in business machines, business law and a refresher course in shorthand will also be offered.

Bob Van Rheeden will teach three areas of instruction which apply to the farmer. Electrical wiring is one of these. The University of Illinois electrical wiring kit will be used. Farm business management is a part of the course which will show the modern farm manager how to keep accounts, analyze his business, the latest income tax procedures and social security tips. In the farm shop course, maintenance of farm machinery, welding, wood construction and other agriculture problems will be topics studied.

Set Band Boosters Fall Dance

The Lincoln-Way Band Boosters have engaged Bill Carnegie orchestra of Joliet to provide the music for their annual fall dance set for Saturday, Sept. 28 in the school gymnasium. The hours for dancing will be from 9 to 12.

Tickets, at $1 for adults and 75¢ for students, are now on sale from any Band Booster member residing in Frankfort, New Lenox, Manhattan and Mokena or may be obtained at the door the evening of the dance.

Proceeds from the affair will help to defray the expense in purchasing uniforms for the cadet and advance bands. Robert Taylor is director of the advance band, while Richard Johns is directing the cadet band and dance band.

MEMENTO OF SWEDEN - When Beverly Guildenzopk (l.) and Jeanine Peters (r.) went to Sweden last year as foreign exchange students, they took a copy of the Lincoln-Way High School yearbook and presented it to their Swedish "parents". In return their Swedish "parents" sent a copy of "Sweden in Color" back to Lincoln-Way High School and the Lincoln-Way Lions Club. Supt. A. Hunter Chapman (c.) examines the Swedish memento with the two girls after the presentation during opening of school at Lincoln-Way last week. The Lincoln-Way Lion's Club sponsored the girls' nine-week stay in Sweden.

A FACTORY ON THE JOB—or so it would seem. This machine wraps and gives a protective coating to the pipe that the Northern Illinois Gas Co. is installing for the new 30-mile Lisle to Crestwood gas main. When this picture was taken this week the crews were working along 143rd street, south of Lemont and west of Orland Park. This is a 36-inch main, by the way, and will insure an additional supply of gas for communities on the southern fringe of Chicago.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir: Editor, The week beginning Sept. 17, Citizenship Day has been proclaimed by Governor Kerner 'League of Women Voters Week in Illinois.' So often there seems to be a gap between the average citizen's pride in our democratic form of government - and the realization that active, alert and informed citizens are required to keep that form of government effective. Such is the purpose of the League of Women Voters, 'to promote political responsibility thru informed and active participation of citizens in government.'

The League works for the good of the community by providing up-to-date non-partisan material on voting and politics; objective information on candidates meetings where all candidates are presented. Dues are kept low so that no one is barred for financial reasons, but since this source of income does not cover expenditures, contributions from public-spirited citizens outside the League are obtained during the annual finance drive. As a local League we are also indebted to the Orland-Herald for the excellent coverage given to our activities.

Sincerely, Doreen P. Crewe Public Relations Chairman Palos-Orland League of 14455 S. Rt. 45, Orland Park, will be seen in the new, hour T.V. series, "The Lieutenant", depicting the professional and personal life of a peacetime U.S. marine.

classes for volunteer workers will be held on Sept. 24 and Oct. 2. Any member wishing to attend either or both classes is asked to contact Mrs. Richards.

Mrs. Robert Best, youth program chairman, announces a workshop will be conducted at the Illinois Youth Diagnostic Center in Joliet on Oct. 9 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Reservations for attending the sessions are to be made with Mrs. Best. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Needham, Mrs. Richards Sippel and Mrs. Florence Pitman at the close of the meeting.

Frankfort Village Board Discusses Many Things

Conversation marked the regular meeting of the Frankfort village board Monday night with little action being taken.

The board viewed movies of the use of closed circuit TV to examine sewer systems and determine where repairs are needed and the location of potential trouble spots.

The board also discussed the possibility of changing its form of heat for the village hall from oil to gas. And at its next regular meeting the board may enact an ordinance licensing pinball machines.

Also up for discussion were future plans for the Community park.

Mrs. Irving Rudman, chairman of the SPC which devotes its time, funds and efforts to improvement of the village park, brought a mock-up of the park to the meeting to make it easier to discuss location of future moves.

Trustee Robert Dean, who heads the Frankfort Lions club, said that organization wants to get work started this fall on what is to be a combination tennis and basketball court that is so constructed that it can be covered with ice in the winter for skating.

The Lions club formerly leased New York Central property on Kansas street which it flooded in the winter to provide skating. The Lions did not renew the lease on the land, however, deciding that it would be better to spend its money on improving public property rather than that of the railroad.

Dean said that the plan calls for installing tiles under a fill and topping it with a concrete slab. Board members who are familiar with working with soil advised that the use of fill and tile be held off until spring. To use tile now, they said, would make it quite difficult to produce ice as the water would be drained off or absorbed too rapidly. They suggested that the court site be dug out and a ridge thrown up around it so it could be flooded this winter.

The proposed court would be approximately 88 feet square. This would provide two tennis courts and back boards would also be installed for the use of those favoring basketball.

The court would be lighted, Dean stated. The lights would also be appreciated by horse-shoe players. Mrs. Rudman said, Members of the board, including Dean, and Mrs. Rudman were to visit the park this week with the idea of deciding where it would be best to establish the court. Proximity to water is a factor.

Dean also told the board that later the Lions will apply for permission to hold a turkey shoot at the park. The idea is to shoot out the painted eye on a painted turkey head, peeking out of a simulated knothole. Shotguns would be used.

The village board discussed the engineering fee for the sidewalk built along White street by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. after it had broken the old walk in installing cable conduits along the street. Representatives of the telephone company were at the board meeting Monday. The bill, $385, has been kicked about for months. Powers-Thompson Co., the contractor, said it wasn't their cost and passed it to the village or the telephone company. The phone company contends that the engineering costs for changing grades belonged to the village. The village finally agreed that it had called in Robert Hamilton, the engineer, to establish the grades for the walk. When too many objected to the first grades Hamilton ran another line. His bill was $385.

Village Attorney Albert Krusemark told the board that on the question of pinball machines the state's attorney's office has ruled that such machines that do not pay off or are paid off by attendants and are so built that any free games must be played off, are legal and may be licensed. The question before the board is whether to set the license fee low, say $25 or $50 or set it so high as to discourage the use of such machines in the village. The board will study the county's ordinance on pinball machines before arriving at a decision, it was indicated.

Set Fall Swim Schedule At Sandburg School Pool

The always-popular family recreational swimming program at Carl Sandburg high school has begun.

Bob Grindey, aquatic director at Sandburg, said the fee for the fall program will remain at 75 cents per session and includes a suit and towel for each swimmer. "We welcome all swimmers," he said. "All they need to do is bring 75 cents and spend a refreshing evening in the pool."

In the past, the program has attracted many area families to the pool. Last year, for example, 3,375 swimmers used the pool during the nine month program. "We like to think the pool at Carl Sandburg belongs to everyone in the district," Grindey said. "This program is one of the ways we try to facilitate its use."

Grindey and staff are also making plans for the Saturday swim school, open to children five years and older, which starts Saturday, Oct. 5. This program, designed to teach landlubbers to swim well and good swimmers to swim better, provides a series of ten lessons for $7.50.

"Everyone in this program must be registered," Grindey emphasized. "Punch tickets must be used," he said, "and those issued last year or this summer are still good. But all children must re-register to participate in the program even if they have valid tickets or have been registered previously."

Interested persons may register at one of two times: Sept. 28 from 8 a.m. to noon, or Sept. 30 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The aquatic department at Carl Sandburg is also preparing for the adult swimming classes which begin Sept. 24 in conjunction with the Sandburg adult education program. Grindey said that detailed information about this service will be included in the brochure to be mailed out early in September.

Sandburg Juniors Can Take PSA Test Oct. 19

Juniors at Carl Sandburg high school will be given an opportunity to take the preliminary scholastic aptitude test (PSAT) on Oct. 19, according to James Adcock, director of the Sandburg guidance department.

The PSAT, a shorter version of the scholastic aptitude test given to seniors at Sandburg, is specifically designed by the college entrance examination board for use by the guidance department. From the test scores, counselors can help students make decisions about college. The test is not intended as an admissions test, however, nor are there any colleges which require PSAT scores for admission.

"Students who intend to go to college or just think they may go should strongly consider taking the PSAT," Adcock said. He pointed out that scores on the PSAT correlate closely with those made on the SAT. In addition, he said a number of scholarship sponsors make use of PSAT scores in the selection of candidates for their programs.

The test takes 2 1/2 hours to complete and contains multiple-choice questions designed to measure the students' verbal and mathematical abilities. "Students must pre-register to take the test," Adcock said. "The school receives test materials only for those registered."

Juniors planning to take the test may get application blanks from their counselors. The fee for the test is $1 and must be paid when the student registers.

The tests are scored by the College Entrance Examination Board at Princeton, N.J. Copies of the test scores will be available to Sandburg counselors and to the students.

"I cannot over-emphasize how important this test can be for college-bound juniors," Adcock said, "not only for use as supporting evidence for scholarship applications, but also for use in the guidance department. Using these scores, we can help students eliminate weaknesses in their schooling and better prepare them for college work after graduation."

Frankfort Fire District Kills Bonds, 321 To 235

The proposal of the Frankfort fire protection district to issue $65,000 in bonds to acquire a site and build a fire station sufficiently large to house its equipment was voted down at a special referendum conducted last Saturday, Sept. 14.

The issue failed by 86 votes. A total of 565 votes was cast. There were nine spoiled ballots. The returns:

Yes, 235
No, 321

This is the second time that the proposition to build a fire house has been defeated. Indications were that the proposal would be submitted again at a date to be announced later.

Art Festival Committee

Martin Suchor, head of the art department at Carl Sandburg high school, has been appointed a member of the steering committee for the all-Illinois student art exhibition which will be a highlight of the Chicago Arts Festival this fall.

The festival, stressing the fine and graphic arts, and including also classical, jazz and folk music, drama and the dance, will take place from Nov. 19 thru 24 in McCormick Place. The event will be open to the public at nominal admission prices. The student exhibit will be composed of approximately 300 pieces of art selected from many hundreds submitted by art teachers in high schools, junior colleges and colleges and universities throughout the state of Illinois. The exhibit and the selection period leading up to it are under the supervision of William J. Bealmer, director of art education, office of the superintendent of public instruction at Springfield.

The fire protection district is now using a portion of the Frankfort village hall to house its equipment. There is not room for all of the apparatus, it was pointed out, and if it is to be kept properly it should be housed, department officials stated.

Business & Finance

MAURICE P. ANGLAND

A recent study of the chemical industry reveals that there has been a tendency for profit margins to shorten, but major firms in the industry have continued to make progress in increasing earnings altho at moderate rate.

The study shows that in the four years to 1962, based on the 1957-59 average, net was at rate of 2.7 per cent for Union Carbide, 3.9 per cent for Dow, 4.3 per cent for DuPont, 4.8 per cent for American Cyanamid, and 6 per cent for Monsanto.

To finance their steady growth, major chemical producers have had to re-invest substantial portions of their net earnings. The retention of part of earnings causes lower dividend pay-out, but the reinvestment is justified by expansion of the equity of these firms.

The study also points out that the chemical industry is primarily a supplier of production materials to other industries. On this basis, chemical production is closely tied to the average industrial activity level. On long term basis, chemical industry has shown steadily rising level and on a short term basis, the industry fluctuates with the business cycle.

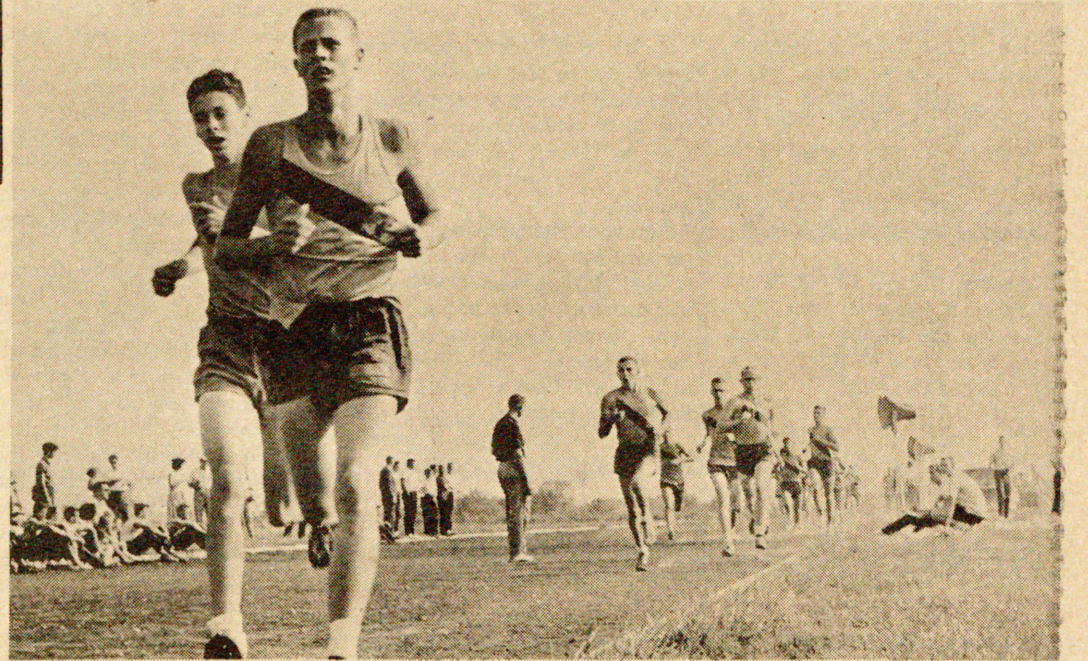

In general, the firms which manufacture petrochemicals which are basic ingredients of commercial fertilizers, have shown the best growth rate.

The importance of petroleum in manufacture of fertilizer raw products, has brought about oil producer purchases of fertilizer producers. The latest such acquisition is American Agricultural Chemicals by Continental Oil Co. This acquisition is now in process of completion. There are very few independent fertilizer manufacturers remaining. Of the larger specialists in the field, still independent, are Virginia Carolina Chemical, International Minerals & Chemicals, and Potash Co. of America.

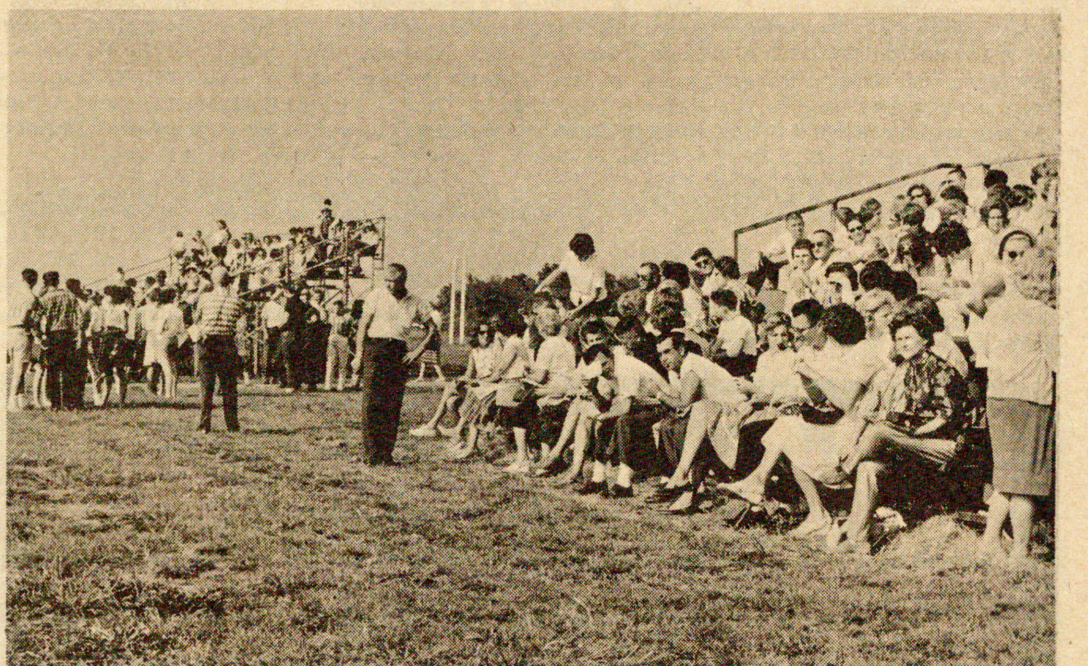

Iron Age, leading weekly devoted to metal industry, expresses the opinion that 1963 will be rated as a boom year in steel consumption. Domestic output is expected to be about 106 million tons which is the largest in last six years and about 11 tons under the record high in 1955. The magazine states that the "current order picture is deceptively quiet while the industry awaits the buying decisions of automakers which group is the second best steel customer."

Financial World of Sept. 11, 1963, reports in its market, comment, that most industries have recovered from laws of June a year ago. The exceptions are cigaret industry now 3.7 per cent down and apparel chain stores about unchanged from fourteen months ago. Recovery leaders were air transport, broadcasting more than double in the period.

Interesting contrasts are seen in a breakdown. Food stocks are below their late 1961 highs, sugar stocks are well above, the cigaret makers are far under and cigar makers above; machinery manufacturing as a group, are under the highs while agricultural and

The occasion was at the recent meeting of the Eagles Boosters, the adult supporters of the Sandburg athletic teams. S&L Industry Assets Exceeds #100 Billion America's great savings and loan association business has passed the $100 billion mark in total resources, according to Henry J. Wolske, board chairman of Archer-Hoyne Federal Savings and Loan Association of Chicago.

According to Wolske, who lives at 14622 West Avenue, Orland Park, savings and loan organizations from coast to coast are planning to take part in a celebration to mark the occasion.

"Our business has a lot to talk about," he said, "and we can point with pride to some record statistics."

Wolske stated that the savings and loan business—a unique American development—is 132 years old. The first association was organized in Philadelphia in 1831. In that year a group of 37 men pooled their resources to provide a fund from which they could borrow to build homes for their families—and today's booming financial enterprise is the result.

Some 20 million homes have been purchased thru savings and loan funds since the Philadelphia experiment got underway, and today more than 6,300 associations in communities of every size throughout the country provide mortgage financing and safe keeping for savings accounts.

"Our industry has created some interesting by-products," Wolske declared. "For example, associations now employ over 700,000 persons—and the industry generated $2 1/2 billion in home equipment sales during 1962 in addition to providing three quarter million jobs for home construction workers."

Forty-four per cent of America's homes are now being financed by savings and loan associations, Wolske said. During 1962, over one million homes were purchased with savings and loan help—and 400,000 of these were new construction.

This year the industry will pay Americans over $3 billion in extra income through dividends on savings.

According to Wolske, today's associations are nearly all co-operative enterprises in which members own the organization and share in its benefits thru earnings on savings deposits.

Savings and loans differ from other financial institutions, he said, in that they are essentially community operations. As a result, the relationship between members and the association itself tends to remain personal and friendly.

Savings and loan associations, the Archer-Hoyne executive concluded, are the only specialized home owners' credit institutions in our economic system.

Archer-Hoyne Federal was founded in 1911 as Archer Avenue Building & Loan Association, and received its federal charter in 1935. Today the firm has total assets of $16 1/2 million. The association employs seventeen people.

Directors are Henry J. Wolske, Fred W. Splitgerber, Walter J. Pfeiffer, Charles J. Hallmann, Edward C. Muth, Robert Kotik, Jr., and Howard R. Grados.

Officers are Henry J. Wolske, chairman of the board; Wilbur V. Wolske, president; Fred W. Splitgerber, vice president; Lorraine M. Kloebe, secretary, and Lillian L. Lindbohm, treasurer.

HOME FURNISHING'S CORNER

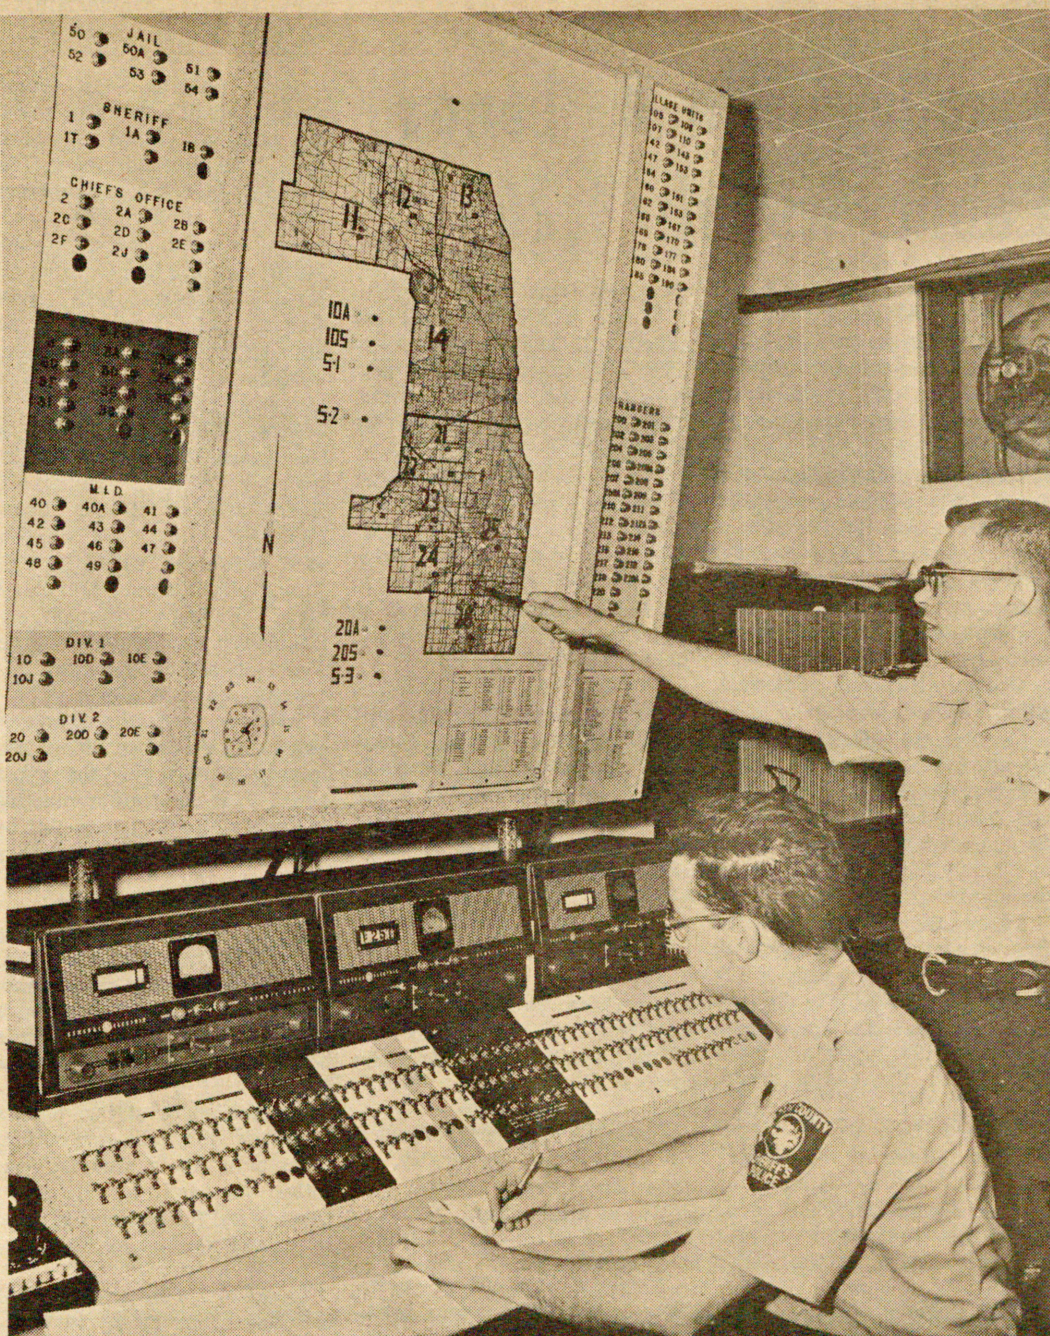

By NOEL E. SMITH

I am often asked about the care and maintenance of upholstery fabrics. This need not be as much of a problem as it would at first appear. I could go into a very lengthy discussion on spot removing and shampooing and possibly we can cover these in succeeding articles.

Today I am going to hit on one very simple, and often ignored wear problem. That problem is dust — simple, always constant dust. If we were to place a particle of dust under a high-powered microscope we would see that it is sharp and ragged edged. This same dust causes more worn areas and tacky material than any amount of normal use will produce. You see, dust is everywhere. It doesn't merely rest on our tables and wood pieces. It accumulates in equal amounts on our upholstery pieces. As we use these pieces weight will push this dust down into the fabric and friction from use will cause these dust particles, over a period of time, to sever the fibre.

Interested in the proverbial ounce of prevention? Careful brushing and vacuuming will cut this wear measurably. How often you brush and vacuum depends on how much dust you have naturally. For one, weekly employment of these practices is sufficient. For others, daily. Every home can use this care at least once a week. Try it! Sounds simple. You'll be rewarded with fresher looking fabrics that will give you a lot more service than is otherwise possible.

And, reverse those cushions at the same time.

NEW SYSTEM - Looking over the operation of the status board erected at the Sheriff's police communications center in Bedford Park are (from left) Radio Dispatcher, Richard Browne, and Director of Communications, James Fyke. The board enables the dispatcher to tell at a glance which cars are on duty, which vehicles are off duty and which cars are on assignments. This is the first time the Sheriff's office has had such a system in effect.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF NEW LENOX, WILL COUNTY, ILLINOIS:

SECTION 1: No person, firm, corporation, association, club or co-partnership or any other organization shall discharge or permit to be discharged into the sanitary sewer system of the Village of New Lenox, Will County, Illinois, any garbage, chemicals, oils, greases, industrial waste, sand, earth, broken glass or other relatively insoluble and inert materials, except upon written permission from the New Lenox Village Board and approval of the Village Engineer.

SECTION 2: No person, firm, corporation, association, club or co-partnership or any other organization shall connect or be permitted to be connected in the sanitary sewer system of the Village of New Lenox, Illinois, any downspouts or roof drains or foundation footing drains which permit the discharge of storm waters into said sewer system.

SECTION 3: That commencing upon the effective date of this Ordinance, the tap-on fee for any person, firm corporation, association, the municipal sanitary sewer system shall be One Hundred Fifty Dollars ($150.00) for each connection. That such fee is payable at the time of application for the permit hereinafter provided, and said fee shall be held by the Village Treasurer in a fund, which is hereby created, for sewage disposal plant expansion and sewage inspection fees.

SECTION 4: That commencing with the effective date of this Ordinance, any person connecting to the sanitary sewer facilities of the Village of New Lenox, Illinois, shall install any lateral mains or house service lines required to hook on said sanitary sewer system at his own expense.

SECTION 5: That every sewer installation must have a written permit by the Clerk of the Village of New Lenox before digging begins. When a wye or tee in the main was not provided or cannot be located, the tapping of the sewer main must be done by a machine designed for this purpose such as the Smith & Loveless Sewer Tap. The Village Secretary can furnish information for obtaining this service. That any excavation of a street in said Village of New Lenox shall be backfilled with sand to a point within two (2) feet of the surface of the street, and the remaining two (2) feet shall be backfilled with crushed stone; that before any person is permitted to use the sanitary sewer facilities, all of the installation and construction of any laterals or house service line shall be inspected by the Building Inspector of the Village of New Lenox while the ditch is open.

SECTION 6: Service shall be deemed available if the sewer main runs parallel to the street, is of sufficient depth to serve the first floor and extends in the street or easement area to a point that would meet the nearest lot line if it was projected to intersect the main; provided, however, that a lot herein contemplated, shall be any area with a common ownership at the time of the installation of the basic sewer system.

SECTION 7: Any person violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than Ten Dollars ($10.00) and not more than Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) for each day that said violation continues.

SECTION 8: The provisions of this Ordinance are declared to be severable; and if any section, sentence, clause or phrase of this Ordinance shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining sections, sentences, clauses and phrases of this Ordinance; but they shall remain in full effect, it being the legislative intent that this Ordinance shall stand notwithstanding the invalidity of any part.

SECTION 9: All Ordinances or parts of Ordinances inconsistent with any provisions of this Ordinance be and the same are hereby repealed.

SECTION 10: This Ordinance shall take effect from and after its passage and publication as provided by law.

Breaks Leg

Richard M. Gallagher, 17, Manhattan, is in Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, with a fractured leg and a companion and passenger in his car, Gerry Stoles, 17, Manhattan, is also in the same hospital severe facial, head and neck injuries plus a fractured nose.

According to county police Gallagher rammed another car after it had turned into a driveway on Rt. 1, Manhattan.

The driver of the other car, George Boudreau, 16, of rural Bourbonnais, told deputies that he had encountered the other car a few minutes earlier and that the other driver turned around and began chasing him. Boudreau was with a girl, Leyne Stauffenberg, 17, rural Manhattan, and in an attempt to elude his pursuers turned in the driveway at her home.

The car driven by Gallagher followed, smashing into the other vehicle. Gallagher was quoted by deputies as saying he had been driving between 50 and 60 miles an hour at the time of the crash. He was charged with driving too fast and causing an accident and is due to appear in court when he leaves the hospital. The incident occurred about 9:40 o'clock Saturday night.

Boudreau and Miss Stauffenberg were also treated at Silver Cross and released.

PALOS SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

It is Noteworthy that the word "savings" precedes the word "loan" in the names of all associations, because such is the primary purpose of the associations.

AS A RESULT OF THE ENCOURAGEMENT OF THRIFT BY THE ASSOCIATIONS, IN THE YEAR 1962 THE NET GAIN IN DEPOSITS AMOUNT TO 9.5 BILLION DOLLARS, MAKING A TOTAL OF 80.9 BILLION DOLLARS ON DEPOSIT. THE ASSOCIATIONS IN TURN PAID DIVIDENDS TO THEIR DEPOSITORS, THE VERY TIDY SUM OF 3 BILLION DOLLARS.

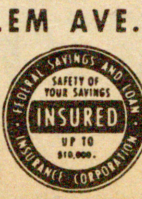

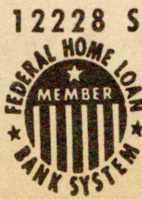

A SAVINGS ACCOUNT WITH PALOS SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION EARNS A BIG 4-1/2 PER CENT DIVIDEND, A FIGURE WHICH COMPARES FAVORABLY WITH ANY BLUE CHIP STOCK. IT SHOULD BE POINTED OUT, HOWEVER, THAT AN ACCOUNT DOES NOT HAVE TO BE IN THE "INVESTMENT CATEGORY", OVER 50 PER CENT OF THE SAVINGS ACCOUNTS IN ANY ASSOCIATION HAS A BALANCE OF LESS THAN $1,000.00.

ALL THE ACCOUNTS OF THE PALOS SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION ARE INSURED UNDER THE REGULATIONS OF THE FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN INSURANCE CORPORATION.

SAVING IS A HABIT - WHY DON'T YOU COME IN AND OPEN AN ACCOUNT, AND REGULARLY DEPOSIT TO IT, OR TO YOUR EXISTING ACCOUNT, WHETHER IT BE $1.00, $10.00, OR $100.00?

'64 Team Pin

American Legion leaders of the 1964 membership drive will be easily identified by this bright and colorful cap pin which will be awarded to those Legionnaires attending the National Commanders' Membership Conferences which begin Sept. 25 and will cover the nation before closing Nov. 16.

In addition to signifying that 1964 is the Legion's 45th anniversary year, this colorful cap ornament symbolizes the importance of dynamic initiative and dedicated service by the Legionnaire wearing it to the American Legion's future growth and expansion—"The glow of a candle is not diminished when used to light another... it only multiplies the light." (ALNS)

Dented corn plus an occasional brown husk and leaf reminds us that it is time to start making corn silage again. Thirty percent dry matter is about right for making corn silage. Higher dry matter may make silage difficult to keep in conventional silos—and some of the nutrients may already have been leached from the plant by rain prior to ensiling. Sixty percent dry matter silage will more than likely mold once the silo is opened. Extra precautions at filling time may mean a higher quality silage next winter. Exclude air and water. A plastic covering will seal these thieves out of a trench silo or an upright with no roof. Protect the plastic covering on a trench silo with sawdust or agricultural lime. In an upright silo, blow some low-quality forage on top of the plastic after the silo has been covered. Uncovered trench silos have gone from thirty percent dry matter at ensiling time to ten percent dry matter at removal during a winter of high rainfall.

If air and water are properly excluded and the silo is promptly resealed when feeding is discontinued, you can expect good gains with year-old corn silage. In tests conducted at a University of Illinois Experiment Station, we found that corn silage with sixty percent dry matter produced gains of 1.35 pounds per day on calves, whereas corn silage with thirty percent dry matter produced gains of 1.74 pounds per day. The year-old corn silage produced gains of 1.69 pounds per day on calves. Corn silage is indeed a good feed with a potential of producing 1,000 pounds of beef per acre.

The first place to look for extra corn storage space is in the present ear-corn crib. Ear corn takes twice as much space as shelled corn per bushel, so strengthening and weather-proofing a crib to hold shelled corn will nearly double the storage capacity of that building. Shelled corn stored in a converted crib must be dried to 12 or 13 percent moisture content for safe storage. It is best to use a drying system and then transfer the dried corn to the remodeled crib. Since shelled corn exerts nearly 3 1/2 times as much pressure as ear corn against the walls, making the crib strong enough is important. Usually steel tie rods must be added about six feet above the floor, and it is sometimes necessary to add steel rods at floor level. Pay special attention to the end walls because the pressure is just as great there. Also, end walls are harder to tie in than side walls. The crib can be weatherproofed in several ways. Details for both strengthening and weatherproofing are given in University of Illinois Circular 775, which may be obtained by writing my office at 6657 South Street, Tinley Park.

Circular 775 can also be used as a guide in building storage bins in an old barn. The high foundations of old barns, poor sill anchors and walls not designed to resist lateral pressure usually make it advisable to use existing walls only as protection. Remove the hay loft flooring, but leave the floor joists and other structural supports. Then build new walls inside the existing walls, using stud size, spacing and ties recommended in Table 1 of Circular 775. The salvaged hay loft flooring will make good bin siding. Before using an old barn for corn storage, clean it up and use some treatment to control rodents.

Hints For Homeowners

Until recently, ground-cover plants were used only in areas that were difficult to maintain or where grass wouldn't grow readily. But more and more landscapers are using these versatile plants to add interest to their landscapes. These low, spreading plants help to provide a transition between shrub plantings and lawns, offer texture and contrast and serve as a unifying element between planting areas.

Since many contemporary homes have low, dominant horizontal lines, combine a ground cover with adequate corner and doorway plantings rather than using shrubs across the entire area in front of the house. Use ground covers in a staggered pattern in order to get the best coverage. Distance between plants varies with the ground cover. Plant myrtle, Japanese spurge and baltic ivy about 12 inches apart. Space covers like purple leaf euonymus 15 to 18 inches.

Use of ground covers, varieties that perform best in shade or in sunshine, and other helpful landscaping tips are included in a book by University of Illinois Landscape Architect, William R. Nelson, "Landscaping Your Home." The book, costing two dollars, tax included, is available from our office at 201 North Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights or just write to this paper.

In the early days of autumn, house plants that have enjoyed a summer vacation outdoors should be taken indoors so they may adapt to the environment there before artificial heat is turned on in homes. Plants that haven't thrived outdoors during the lush days of summer aren't likely to improve indoors. So, these "weak-sisters" plants should be replaced.

House plants that have benefited from the warm, moist weather outdoors need a period to become adjusted to the indoor climate again before homes are artificially heated. Otherwise, the abrupt change to hot, dry air of heated homes will be harmful to them.

Before bringing them in, plants should be sprayed with an insecticide to rid them of any insect pests, and the outside of all pots should be scrubbed with a brush and water.

The top soil of plants, still actively growing, should be removed and replaced with a mixture of one part garden soil, one part peat and one part sand. Also, it is helpful to add bone-meal at the rate of a teaspoon-bul to each six-inch pot.

Gas heat must be best!

The overwhelming preference for gas heat by home buyers in the area we serve establishes beyond question that no other type of heating gives so much satisfaction. No other type of heating is cleaner, or offers greater comfort and convenience—for anywhere near the low cost of gas heat.

The simple facts are these:

● Gas heat saves you money. It's your biggest heating bargain. In fact, other types of heat can cost up to 3 1/2 times as much!

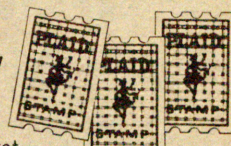

● Gas heat is more convenient. Proper balancing of the distribution system and the setting of a single thermostat are all you need with gas heat. Set it, and forget it... no need for "policing" individual thermostats, room by room.

● Gas heat is more comfortable. Gas heat gives you the gentle circulation of fresh, healthful, humidified air; plus filtered cleanliness and speedy response to your desires for a change of temperature.
